The Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organization's (JCAHO) Disease Specific Care Certification for stroke requires that healthcare organizations use a standardized set of performance measures to demonstrate that they follow national standards and guidelines that can significantly improve outcomes for stroke patients. JCAHO's primary stroke center certification is based on the recommendations for primary stroke centers published by the Brain Attack Coalition and the American Stroke Association's statements and guidelines for stroke care. JCAHO launched the stroke certification program in 2003. For more information on JCAHO certified programs visit their website at www.jcaho.org.
